Assessment Questions.

Please read the following questions or statements and then write about your experience in this class this past semester. You can respond directly to them or you can use them to jumpstart your thinking before you write a response. Please write at least one page, typewritten.

- Reflect on the process you've just gone through, the three different modules and what you might have learned in each. More importantly, think about the connections you might have across the three modules. Did ideas bridge across them? Did your learning in one inform the creative work you did in another?
- What was the most successful aspect or outcome of this team-taught course? What was the least successful?
- How did this course change your creative practice, if it has? Did it help you to think differently about your approach to creating work?
- Are there things you would add to the structure or content of the course? Are there aspects that you would delete from the structure or content?
- Discuss your progress and development in this course, and how the course—in general or specifically—contributed to them.
